All your macros can be executed directly from the Macros menu, providing a simple and convenient way to automate various tasks on your computer. "This looks really useful and well-designed. I'm surprised that neither you nor the macmenu guys would go into more detail about how to use this! It seems to be a very powerful replacement for the Windows Explorer, but this lack of information is something that may scare many users away from trying it. For example, if you use the 'Split' feature to display multiple Windows, you would expect to be able to resize them, or to arrange them vertically. You can sort by name, size or type, but you'll need to copy/paste the information manually; the 'Filters' section lacks a dynamic directory selection, so you'll still need to take care of finding out the name of the file, as well as the content of the folder. A few other missing features are a 'Cycle' button, to move through the most recently opened files or the ability to resize the panes. Finally, it's unfortunate that the Macros menu is hidden behind a right-click menu. Overall, this is a great program, and it looks to be up to the Mac OS X standards, but the lack of in-depth user-friendly documentation is a real letdown. Unfortunately, after I installed it, I noticed that it didn't really replace the explorer, but rather it just showed up as another desktop. Not sure if it is possible to have it replace explorer, but if you do, it is an awesome program -Jerry LePendu"

***** The most important feature of the Explorer Pro 5.0 program is the fact that it works seamlessly in addition to or in place of the Windows Explorer. The basic design of the program feels very familiar, yet I would have to say that it feels a bit bland for my tastes. The UI definitely feels very Windows, with the icons being relatively small and displayed in a sort of list on the left side. The icons are also reminiscent of the real Windows explorer, however, I think it is important to point out that the icons used by this program are displayed on a black background, so the icons don't "pop" out at you as much 77a5ca646e
