A: If you use WinRAR, you can use it to extract all archives in the zip file you just downloaded. This will keep the password safe. Extracting (or extracting in a separate location) all the archives will give you the all the content of that Zip. If you used WinZip or WinRar, WinZip will ask you for the password and then extract the contents of the Zip file. WinRar is a bit complicated, as it asks for a password twice, once to extract and once to open. After extracting, do the following: From the extracted folder: Open up a command prompt (Windows) and type cd [extracted folder] From the extracted folder: Open up a DOS window Type "x " (without the quotes) Example: "x" C:\Users\MyUser\Desktop\unzipped\myzip.zip Open up a new command prompt (Windows) and type dir Example: "dir" MyZipFolder Hope this helps!
