Free roaming sand boxes are new to FIFA 22, making FIFA Ultimate Team Free Roam Mode the most expansive of its kind in the franchise. Training and Career Mode feature many new improvements as well, including in-depth player performance analysis and a growing player progression system. Other notable changes and features in FIFA 22 include: *

- * New defensive AI: A new defensive AI algorithm will react to players' decisions and give an even more realistic feel to opposition tactics and the tactical thinking involved.
- * Tactical Injuries: Three new injury types have been added to the injury tree. These include player fatigue, loss of balance and loss of concentration, which will affect players' performance for longer periods of time. Players can accumulate fatigue to drive them to the bench. * “Game Flow”: There are a number of new Game Flow features including vertical passing control, coupled with an improved and larger on-ball control area. New goal celebrations also include some new styles of celebrations. * New Boot Vision: Boots have been rebalanced to allow them to pick out and focus on the ball at a range of distances. * New Gamelike Breathing: Breathing has been improved to give a more realistic feel and natural variance in player fitness. * Live Speed Impact: The Impact of players moving at different speeds have been rebalanced to provide more realistic gameplay. * Propelled Passing: Player movement has been rebalanced to make passing feel more smooth and natural. * Free-kicks are now more difficult to take: There is now significantly more deflection and bouncing of the ball off players and more realistic motion blur effects when tackling. * On-ball AI: A new AI system will make the opponent's tactics more unpredictable. * Cover: Rounding off a new cover system and new covers.
