As in the title, I've got a system installed with a dual boot configuration of Windows XP and Fedora (32-bit). The 32-bit drivers aren't fully supported, so I can't boot XP (does this count as a fix?). I also still need to use Windows for quite a while, so I don't want to have to reinstall. My question is, is it possible to just boot the 32-bit Linux LiveCD onto the Partition where Windows is installed, and let it, somehow, install GRUB? It seems like it would be more common to have a dual boot working correctly than the way I've put it together, so if that's what I need to do, I'll take it. A:
