Analysis and player intelligence systems are able to use the information provided by the motions to make its own predictions on player behaviour, thereby enabling players to avoid collisions with each other as well as opponents and the environment. "As new technology is developed, FIFA is adapting it to its players and the game in order to improve gameplay. This year we have introduced a brand new way to play the game and introduced the features that players will enjoy at their highest level." "What is most exciting about the HyperMotion Technology is the strength of the new tools and intelligence that the motion capture data is providing for the players to create the best atmosphere for the sport and the best quality football." "In the past we have only captured players in motion when the game was not on the pitch, which gives FIFA a very limited view of what an actual football game actually looks like, which has hurt the authenticity of the sport. With the HyperMotion Technology we are now capturing players on the pitch, on the ball and in the air to provide a true representation of what happens when the ball is in play," said Jeff Stratton, Creative Director at EA SPORTS. "For example, a player may be running at full speed towards a ball and collide with the player trying to pass the ball. Analysing the collision will alert the game that a collision is taking place. Our players will now be better equipped to deal with that type of situation." "This is not just about creating the most realistic football game with more fidelity," added Stratton. "It's about providing the most authentic and competitive game experience for fans at home and on the pitch." The motion capture data is split between two sets of data, one which is used for the rough approximation of where the ball is at any point in time and the second which informs the action on the pitch. The motion captured data is then used to drive the physics system and combine together the behavioural data for a complete, accurate game simulation. Liverpool FC Liverpool Football Club, commonly referred to as just Liverpool, is a professional association football club based in Liverpool, England, that competes in the Premier League. The club was founded on 13 February 1892 as Everton by supporter Tom Johnson, who left his former club West Bromwich Albion to found the team. Johnson relocated the club to the city of Liverpool in 1894, and the club was renamed as "Liverpool Football Club" in 1894. The club is called "The Reds" because of the club's red and white colour scheme, and "The Liver Birds" for its English motto of per fess (Latin for "liver bird", "liver" referring to the club's badge). The club is based at Anfield, a ground in the north end of Liverpool known for its distinctive architecture. Liverpool participated in English football's first ever league competition, the Football League. The club's first season was 1893-94.

After missing the playoffs in four consecutive seasons, Liverpool won the league in the 1994-95 season, the first of eight league titles the team has won. Since then, the team has won four more championships and finished second in another eight. The club won their first ever UEFA Cup title in the 2005-06 season, and has made the UEFA Champions League semi-finals on four occasions. Liverpool made their first appearance in the UEFA Champions League Final in 2005, losing to Milan on penalties after the match ended 1-1 after extra time. Liverpool won the UEFA Super Cup twice in 2014 and 2016. The club has also competed in the UEFA Europa League on nine occasions, winning it in the 2014-15 season and the 2015-16 season. The club also reached the final of the inaugural UEFA Club World Cup in 2000 and the final of the 2017 FIFA Club World Cup, both of which the team lost. The club is the second most supported English team in the English Premier League,

What's new:

- EA Canada is a first for FIFA on the PS4: Create your own club, choose the city you want it in, customize everything your club needs, then build its team from more than 150 players, and watch your club evolve over time as it rises up through the divisions.
- FIFA Insight Engine: FIFA Insight Engine powers all of the new, characterful and realistic gameplay visuals and technology across all four fronts of the competition. Analyzing thousands of players' recorded movements from elite performers and the millions of steps they make during intense football matches, the new engine captures all the non-player movements as well, for a more lifelike experience.
- Improved pitch intelligence: For a more realistic look and feel, the AI of the players on the pitch has been upgraded for improved decisions on if, when and where to attack. Enhanced details like deceleration of feet with each player's current positioning on the pitch (and even his shirt colour) will give players on the ball more information to make a better, more intelligent decision. Players also now know the best approach to an incoming cross. Overall, more players know where they are on the pitch than ever before. Especially within the build up, the best attackers know where the ball is first and where it is headed, thanks to unparalleled pitch intelligence.
- Incredible Pro Gamers Play Academy: For the first time on a FIFA game, more than 2,000 real- life pro footballers, representing 30 different national teams and 20 different leagues, will be recruited by FIFA 22's brand-new Pro Gamers Play Academy. This team will work with you to create your dream squad. Best of all, you can watch them train and play, take on other Pro Gamers, and test your skills against them in traditional Pro Gamers online and offline matches. The Academy has players that range from novices to MLS with the New England Revolution and from Japanese Juniors to the English Premier League.

- Looking to play like Beckham? Alongside Goalkeeper Camilo, midfielder Robbie Rogers, and striker Mike Magee, the Pro Gamers Play Academy even includes the most famous footballer of all time, David Beckham. Work with the academy and help create YOUR fantasy squad!
- In FIFA Ultimate Team, players from over 80 real-life clubs have been strengthened and upgraded for Ultimate Edition. This time, they've even FIFA represents the pinnacle of football video gaming and the most realistic football experience available on any platform. It is the premier football franchise of all time, with over 100 million sales worldwide. FIFA is a successful blend of breathtaking gameplay, precision tackling, and spectacular moves. The game boasts more than 3,000 real-life players, 19 authentic football leagues, and more than 350 real-life clubs - and every team, every player and every league has been fully licensed by their domestic football associations. The game lets you play as either the coaches or as the players themselves in career modes that support up to thousands of player and club licenses. FIFA is also a video game for life: an annual version update, featuring new gameplay innovations, player faces, player ratings and teams, is released annually. FIFA is a registered trademark and FIFA, FIFA and FIFA BLOCKBUSTER are trademarks of EA Canada.

Manage Your Club Gameplay and Visual Features: The D-pad has been expanded to four buttons and the B button has been moved to the A button. Attack moves can be controlled with the joystick now. Touch controls remain a key element of gameplay; you can now use the 3-button control scheme and assign button-interruptions and throw controls to either button or joystick. New optional Game Face and Full Game controls. New True Player Looking System. The Impact Engine To maximize the multi-layered, advanced physics that power the game, EA SPORTS has taken a more holistic approach. For the first time, the game truly follows an athlete's entire body and predicts movements in real time. Players are protected by robust collision detection, detailed AI, and state-of-the-art physics. Add the Enhanced Player Impact Engine, a more advanced version of the previously exclusive Impact Engine introduced in FIFA 21, and players can be more aggressive in club mode than they've ever been before. To hit, tackle, and deflect the ball, players have to flex their muscles. At the same time, players need to avoid getting pushed, kicked or struck, or they will be denied that final touch, lose the ball and be overpowered. Anticipation: Players will react faster to opponents' acceleration, cuts, jostles and other tactics. Ankle Control: The new sliding control in combination with the enhanced Physics engine gives players more freedom of movement and gives defenders the ability to slide players out of position
